

CITY OF MISSION VIEJO
MEMBER OF THE CITY COUNCIL

DAN JOSEPH

AGE: 54

OCCUPATION: Retired City Manager

Mission Viejo needs a leader with experience in the business of government. I earned a master's degree in public administration and have spent 30 years in city management. In Mission Viejo, I led a talented staff in achieving the renovation of the Shops at Mission Viejo, construction of the Mission Viejo Library, and development of several new parks and sports fields.

Mission Viejo deserves a City Council that acts in the best the interest of all residents, not a vocal few. I have consistently advocated policies to encourage economic development, ensure long-term fiscal stability, and enhance overall quality of life. Between 1995 and 2003, I increased Mission Viejo's reserves from $16 million to $26 million, and my unwavering support for public safety helped make Mission Viejo the safest city in the nation.

Mission Viejo wants civility in the conduct of its municipal business. Decision making involves discussion and, sometimes, disagreement. But Mission Viejo residents expect their Council Members to disagree without becoming dysfunctional. My background and experience qualify me to bring civility to the Council and to lead a city that desperately needs direction.
